

Matthew Montehermoso

COGS 118C

Richard Gao

R4 Reading Question

While low-level auditory stimulus, such as loud beeps, can produce a high correlation between spikes, high-frequency LFPs, and fMRI signals in Heschl's gyrus, what type of correlation would more complex / higher level auditory stimulus, such as comprehending conversations, etc.